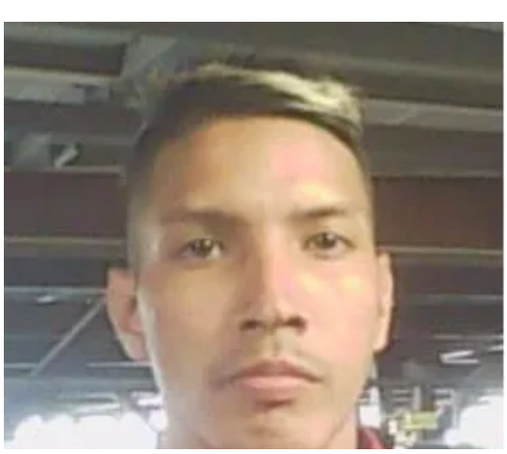
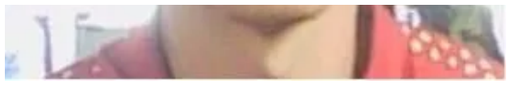
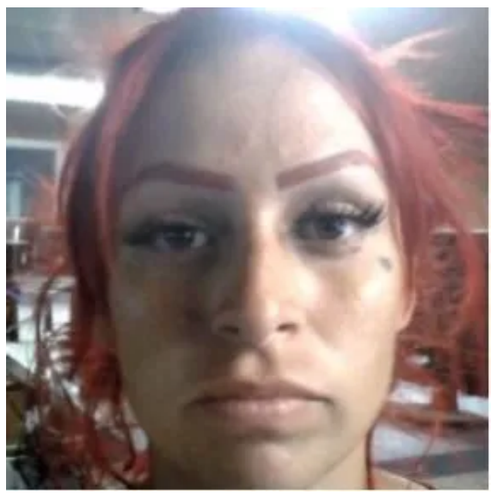
The Department of Homeland Security has released the names and photos of the two alleged Tren de Aragua associates from Venezuela accused of trying to run over Border Patrol agents in Portland on Jan. 8.

Luis David Nico Moncada and Yorlenys Betzabeth Zambrano-Contreras were non-fatally shot after allegedly attempting to ram their truck into federal agents during a targeted stop in east Portland. The pair fled the scene and then called 911 for assistance. Almost immediately, details of the shooting were leaked to the extremist group PDX ICE Watch by a Multnomah County first responder.





Luis David Nico Moncada is an accused Tren de Aragua member



Yorlenys Betzabeth Zambrano-Contreras is accused of being part of a Tren de Aragua sex ring

The photo was taken of a computer system inside a first responder vehicle. According to sourcing, it was not a Portland Police in-car computer system. It could be from the Portland Street Response, Portland Fire, the Multnomah County Sheriff's Office, an ambulance driver or another first responder in the county. It is unlikely the county will investigate the leak to the anti-ICE radical group.

Two people have been shot by ICE, just now a husband and wife. This situation is unfolding in Portland right now. This information is being shared in many places. Please take care and caution. Please understand the gravity of those putting themselves at risk in different ways every single day. Honor that work and each other by remembering where the real problems lie. We will

PDX ICE Watch was given a photo taken by a first responder with details about the Border Patrol shooting. (The date was incorrectly listed as "12/8/26" instead of 1-8-26)

The incident sparked an extraordinary press conference by Oregon and city officials — all Democrats — who condemned the federal agents and expressed sympathy for the accused foreign gang associates, repeatedly referring to them as "victims." Portland Mayor Keith Wilson said he did not believe DHS's account. Rep. Janelle Bynum, who represents part of the Portland area, issued an official statement declaring: "This isn't law enforcement, it's state-sponsored terrorism. Stop fucking with us."

"This isn't law enforcement, it's state-sponsored terrorism. Stop fucking with us. This is the second shooting this week by agents following the orders of a wannabe dictator who is trying to take over cities and rule by instilling terror in the hearts of American people.
When the President deployed his guardsmen to our city earlier this year, we told him their presence was unwelcome and unhelpful. Today, we saw just how dangerous this is – we need these goons gone. Get to steppin'."

According to DHS, Zambrano-Contreras, the female passenger, is an illegal migrant who entered the U.S. through Texas in 2023 and was released into the interior under the Biden administration. DHS says she played "an active role in a Tren de Aragua prostitution ring" and was involved in a prior shooting in Portland. Her online profiles advertise prostitution services in the city.

Notably, the phone number visible in the leaked first-responder call log — apparently unintentionally revealed — matches the contact information used on Zambrano-Contreras' prostitution listings. She has also posted images on social media of a red Toyota truck, which matches the description of the vehicle used in the alleged attempted ramming attack.

Is it a surprise that the very account we've been warning y'all about has now unintentionally doxxed the victim in today's shooting in Portland? Blinded by clout and the hunger for more and more the Portland first responder in a vehicle who leaked to an open borders group ("PDX ICE Watch") about the Border Patrol shooting accidentally reveals the phone number of one of the callers. (They've deleted the screenshot evidence!) of it they've now harmed a member of the community that was already victimized in a horrifying way today...

After leaving the screenshot up for hours after being asked by even migra watch orgs to take it down. And reported comments asking it to be taken down!

Leftist groups were furious that PDX ICE Watch forgot to redact Yorlenys Betzabeth Zambrano-Contreras' phone number in the photo taken by a first responder who leaked to them

Zambrano-Contreras was previously arrested in Washington County, Ore. during an investigation into human trafficking and firearm crimes. The case was referred to federal prosecutors. Though not confirmed, this may be the reason why the woman was sought and stopped by Border Patrol this week.

Zambrano-Contreras' male partner, listed as her "husband" in the leaked call log, is Luis David Nico Moncada. DHS says Moncada illegally entered the U.S. in 2022, was released by the Biden administration, has a U.S. criminal history (DUI), and is under a final order of removal. He is identified as a suspected Tren de Aragua gang member.

Local, national and international media have published stories and chyrons with variations of the statement, "Federal agents shoot two people in Portland." They did not caveat with any information about the alleged attempted truck ramming.

Following the shooting, hundreds of angry left-wing radical protesters, including Antifa, gathered overnight outside the Portland ICE facility, blocking roads and condemning the use of force by federal agents. Portland Police made a number of arrests before the gathering devolved into a violent riot. The unrest came one day after an ICE officer fatally shot a woman in Minneapolis who had accelerated her vehicle toward an agent.

I sent a media inquiry to Mayor Wilson's press office but have not heard back as of publication

Hello,
Mayor Keith Wilson was quick to release a statement expressing support for the two "victims" shot by federal officials during an investigation earlier today. He urged Portlanders to mobilize and "show up."
DHS has released a statement stating that during a targeted stop of two individuals suspected of being connected to a Tren de Aragua sex trafficking ring and a shooting, the driver in the truck attempted to run over the agents when they were shot. The truck fled the scene, which was in a medical center parking lot, to apartments in east Portland.

Does the mayor stand by accused criminal violent foreign nationals attempting to kill or injure law enforcement? If not, why was the mayor so quick to take a position in support of the alleged attempted car attacker? The mayor called for ICE to end all operations in the city. That would mean that criminal foreign elements would have free rein in Portland from deportation. Is that what the mayor supports?

Will the City of Portland provide the public with the latest update on what DHS has said?

Anti-ICE protests and riots by left-wing extremists are ongoing in multiple American cities. On Jan. 8, thousands in New York City chanted, "Save a life, kill an ICE." In Minneapolis, rioters have set up large blockades to create an autonomous zone in the neighborhood where Renee Good died.
